Previously registered

A temporary GCCF online account already exists for this email address. This is usually because your email address is associated with ownership of a cat or prefix.

Have you already registered a cat with GCCF or have a GCCF prefix?

Yes

No

After you have validated your email address, you will see something like this.

If we already have your email address on our system you will see this screen.

The answer to this question should be yes, but if you would like to set up a fresh account (maybe you share your email with another person) choose no.

Enter your cat registration number and UIN from the registration card you received from the GCCF after transferring the cat. If you do not own a GCCF registered cat but you do have a prefix then you can enter that. Please note that if you have purchased a cat but not yet transferred it, you should not use the details from the registration card given to you by the breeder.

If you do not currently own a GCCF registered cat that has been transferred into your name, please click Back and select No on the previous screen. If you have a cat transferred into your name, but do not have the UIN, you can enter the registration number and click the box indicating you do not have the UIN, in which case additional checks will be made to verify your identity.

Unique identifier (UIN):

Enter either your Prefix, or the Registration number and UIN of one of your cats.

You must already have transferred this cat into your registered ownership for this to work.

Select owner

Select the person from the list below which is you. If the list displays the name of the breeder(s) of the cat, then either you have used the registration card given to you by the breeder; in this case you should click Back and enter the details from the card sent to you after transferring the cat.

If you do not own a cat that has been transferred into your name, then please click back twice, and select No to indicate you do not have a GCCF registered cat in your name at present.

Name	Select
